Among the pupils in Cory Rawson Chemistry Class was a girl who had a tendency to monopolize discussions. The teacher decided that such a troublesome habit should be called to the attention of her parents. On the report card he wrote: "Margaret is a good student but she talks too much."
The girl's father wrote back: "If you think she is bad you should meet her mother."

Mrs. Marquart: "Have you scolded Bill about the low marks on his report card?"
Mr. Marquart: "No, every time I do he reminds me that he's an exemption on my income tax."

CLASS HISTORY

On a September day in 1945 we, as eager first graders, started our school life. There were 35 from the Rawson building and 26 from the Mt. Cory building. Of these, 33 have finished their twelve years of school together.

During our grade school years, two of our classmates died. They were Mary Ellen Sprague ad Eldon Stine, both from Rawson. They were missed greatly by all of us.

In the fall of 1953, 59 Freshmen started their high school career. Under the supervision of our spon - sors, Mrs. Zimmerman and Mr. Trostmiller, we organized our class and elected as president, Jerry Miller; Vice President, Robert Bennett; Secretary-Treasuer, Jerry Frantz. Larry Schaller joined us, but at the end of the year we lost Gordon Fisher and Gerald Heldman; Helen Dailey was with us for a short time during that year.

We were guided through our Sophomore year by our new sponsors, Mr. Marshall and Mr. Bame. We chose as class officers: President, Ivan Dangler; Vice President, Bill Marquart; Secretary, Bob Fields; and Treasurer, Alice Blackburn. The big event of that year was choosing our class rings. That year we lost Son- dra Smith, Gloria Beach, Evelyn Taylor, Also Judy DeLong, who had been with us that year only.

Our Junior year the class officers were: President, Bill Marquart; Vice President, Ivan Dangler; Secre- tary, Carol Hartman; Treasurer, Alice Blackburn. Our main project for the year was selling refreshments at basketball games. On April 27, we presented our Junior play "Finders Creepers." On May 5, we honored the Seniors with a banquet using as our theme, "Fairyland." That year we lost Carroll Gossard, Manulita Bermudez, Loretta Wooley, and gained Richard Curry.

At last we reached our Senior year. Our new sponsors were Mr. Clevidence and Mr. Gulker, We chose as our class officers for that important year; President, Ivan Dangler; Vice President, Dean Reichley; Secre - tary, Marilyn Zimmerman; Treasurer, Delores Hanna. That year Richard Curry, Connie Swank, and Janet Welch left us. Among the outstanding activities of the year were choosing the annual staff and going to Fostoria for our Senior pictures. Also in the fall we presented our Senior Class Play, "Susan Steps Out."

After our Senior trip, our last event together was Baccalaureate and Commencement, on May 26. As we go into the future, we shall often remember our class motto, "Our Past Forever Gone, The Future Still Our Own."

CLASS PROPHECY

Here it is 1967, Cory-Rawson Commencement night. Included in the audience are many of the 1957 graduating class.

Seated near the front, is comedian, Jack Rogers, who has just returned from a command performance before King Charles III of England. Beside him sits Alice Blackburn, a contralto star of the Metropolitan Opera. Near them is the concert pianist, Arlene Marshall, who found the lost chord.

But wait, Robert Fields, Cory-Rawson superintendent, is opening the exercises. The Rev. Roger Williamson delivers the invocation. U. S. Congressman, Robert Bennett, holds the audience spellbound with his stirring commencement address. The diplomas are handed out by the president of the local board of education, Elaine Stratton.

Listening very attentively in the audience was Elizabeth Wilch, who makes a charming Washington hostess as the Mrs. Robert Bennett. Ivan Dangler, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, watched proudly while his wife presented the diplomas.

Other '57 grads at the commencement included: Sharon Ackerman and Edith Augsburger, two army nurses; Jerry Miller, coach of the Cleveland Browns; Maryann Lehman, director of Cleveland Accordion Academy; Richard Triplehorn, the proud papa of triplets; Dr. Byron Manges, who won a Nobel Prize for his discovery of the cure for cancer; Miriam Steiner, Ohio's dairy queen; Stephen Warren, owner of a leather-craft factory; and Larry Kitchen, drummer in the country's No. 1 jazz band.

The rest of the class of a decade ago in attendance also have made worthy accomplishments. Marilyn Zimmerman, renowned home economist, edits the "Betty Crocker Homemaker Test." Jerry Augustine has developed a chicken that lays blue, ostrich-sized eggs. The current book of the author, Ruth Stewart, appears on the best-seller list. Patsy Chmitlin has replaced Dorothy Collins on the "Hit Parade" show. Top-ranking cartoonist, Phyllis Pearson, has created the famous comic strip, "Ann Little, Orphan."

Though Donald Thompson directs the Philadelphia Philharmonic Orchestra, he still refuses to grow long hair. Judge Robert Hannewald presides over Findlay's new juvenile court. Elaine Eck poses for shampoo advertisements. Margaret Klinger's television show "Hints for the Homemaker" can be seen over station WFIN-TV. Her inventive husband, Ronald Wolford, contrived a 3-D TV. The White House has just been redecorated by Beverly Wise. Sherman Wilkins and Ted Reiter operate an airplane garage in Bluffton.

Following the example of her sister, Delores Hanna is teaching at McComb. A house without walls stands as the latest creation of architect, Larry Bosserman. Darlene Norris is employed as a public stenographer by the Waldorf Astoria. Joyce Meyer is engaged in orthodonics (teeth straightening)--she has finally removed her own braces.

The record-breaking batter of the New York Yankees, Paul Hicks, has just finished his spring training. Janet Niswander, an ardent Yankee Fan, interprets languages at the United Nations. Since winning the "Miss Universe" title, Pat Bame has become a very successful New York model. She often models fashions created by the prominent designer, Jean Inbody. Curtis Hartman discovered and operates his own fabulous uranium mine.

Several of the '57 class could not witness the graduation tonight due to circumstances beyond their control. Governor Carol Hartman was forced to cancel her plans to speak at the exercises because of an unexpected conference in Columbus.

Bill Marquart is rocketing his way to the moon; accompanying him is engineer, Dean Reichley, the spaceship's designer. Larry Schaller, the world's heavyweight boxing champion, is in training. Dale Wilson, double for Elvis Presley on the screen, had to remain on location.

Romelda Brewster is on a world cruise with her admiral husband. Cowboy, Jerry Frantz, is busy lassoing the hearts of the pint sized set. Margaret Boehm is in the Congo completing her translation of the Bible into a prominent African dialect. Jerry Glore is in Indianapolis where his trial runs for the Memorial Day race look very promising.

But alas, the scene fades. Actually the class of 1957 has just graduated. Only the future will tell whether the vision was true, or no.
